

1 Introduction

This short document fixes the following issues addressed by my batchmate, Low Zhang Xian: Fixing arrangement of components in signup flow, Fixing Clarity of Home Page Headers and Cards and Fixing Chat Session buttons for Room Owner and Room Seeker

The Links are as follows in bold: Original Room Seeker Flow, Updated Room Seeker Flow, Original Room Owner Flow, Updated Room Owner Flow

2 Spacing out form input in Sign Up Flow

As mentioned in the critique, it was recommended to space out the form input to prevent it from being strainful to process a huge chunk of text at once. I agree with this. Not only that, I feel that it would also be better to prevent the new users from mis-clicking when signing up.

Figure 1: Spacing out of components

With Reference to Figure 1, the components are spaced out to prevent misclicking and eye straining.

3 Fixing Clarity of Home Page Headers and Cards

3.1 Room Seeker Fixes

As mentioned in the critique, there were two issues mentioned for the Room Seeker Confusion with respect to the header of the main page and Missing Interactions with respect to cases where the Room Owner rejects the attempt to communicate or deletes the chat room.

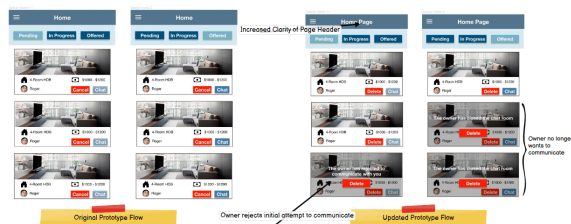

Figure 2: Fixing Home Page Components

With Reference to Figure 2, the header has been changed to Home Page to reflect that it is the main screen. Not only that, extra overlays were added to indicate scenarios when the Room Owner rejects the attempt to communicate or deletes the chat room. This results in the Chat Room being unable to open and the Room Seeker has no choice but to delete the card to respect the Room Owner's decision of not wanting to communicate.

3.2 Room Owner Fixes

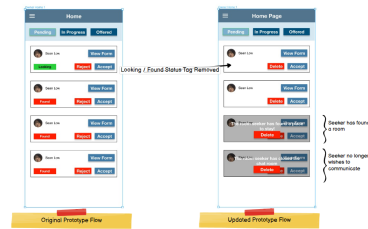

Figure 3: Fixing Home Page Components

As mentioned in the critique, the Looking component was confusing as it was thought to be an interactive component. As a result, I replaced it with an overlay indicating the room owner to delete the chat room when the room seeker has found a room. Note: Now Delete button will delete the entire chat room regardless of the role being a Room Owner or a Room Seeker.

4 Fixing Chat Session Buttons

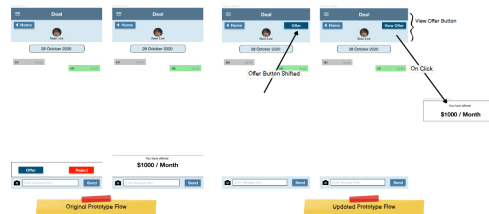

Figure 4: Fixing Chat Buttons for Room Owner

As mentioned, it would be distracting for the room owner to constantly have the offer components at the bottom of the page. As a result, by putting it in a separate pop-up, accessible via another button, it would reduce the clutter in the chat session

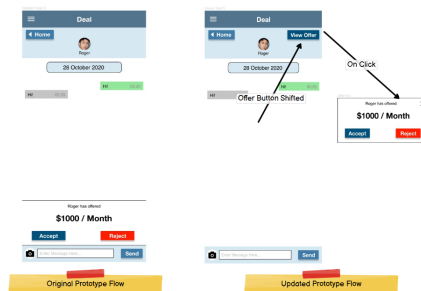

Figure 5: Fixing Chat Buttons for Room Owner

Alternatively, for the room seeker, it would be a pop-up which asks the seeker to accept or reject the offer made. As mentioned in the design document, if the room seeker rejects the offer made, then it would transition to In Progress for both Room Seeker and Room owner.